ABOUT CHERRYLAND DAIRY FARM

Cherryland Dairy Farm is home to the Henschel family. Mike and Jamie, along with their three sons, Mark (Kylie), Brian, and Kevin, are the fourth and fifth generations to run this very diverse farm. Mike's mother, Helen, third generation, also contributes daily by helping with fieldwork, feeding, and milking cows.

Founded in 1902, this year marks the farm's 120th year. The original stanchion barn still stands tall where a herd of 50 Holstein cows are milked twice-a-day. All heifer calves born on the farm are used for herd replacements. The bull calves born, along with extras purchased, are fed out as steers. Beef along with pork from their 40-sow farrow-to-finish hog operation are sold by the half or whole. This farm is also home to chickens, ducks, horses, cats, dogs, goats, and six hives of honeybees producing Door County honey.

Crops are grown on 560 acres of owned and rented land, all within a two-mile radius of the farm. Crops raised include corn, alfalfa, winter wheat, soybeans, and oats. Seed is purchased through Dairyland Seed Co. with Mike as the local dealer for more than 25 years.

Along with spring comes the sweet smell of maple syrup. Sap is collected from approximately 1,400 taps through miles of vacuum tubing. It's then boiled down on a wood-fired 3'x10' forced-air evaporator, filtered, and bottled. The pure maple syrup is available for purchase at the farm and a variety of local businesses.

Henschel Sawmill, located a mile east of the farm, was introduced 36 years ago further diversifying the family business. What started out as sawing a winter's worth of logs on their circular sawmill has now grown to semi loads of logs delivered annually to the mill from the Northwoods of Wisconsin and Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Henschel Sawmill supplies a variety of dimensional lumber from mainly cedar, pine, and ash logs. Kiln drying and lumber planing is also available, as is mulch and slab wood.

Cherryland Dairy Farm takes pride in producing a variety of quality products for everyone to enjoy. Although farming has its challenges, there is no better place to raise a family than on a farm in beautiful Door County.
